

*Creating Genuine Connections through
Group Spiritual Direction*

*Diane Millis &
Christina Luna Munger*

Tuesday, February 20th
9:30—11:30 a.m.

People are more connected than ever before. In an age of likes and tweets, how might we as spiritual directors reimagine group spiritual direction? This professional development day will examine the key movements that distinguish group spiritual direction from other small group formats, explore approaches to GSD that can be used in a wide array of settings, and engage participants in conversation about elements of inclusion and contemplation that are conducive to creating safe, sacred spaces.

Diane Millis and Christine Luna Munger share an enduring commitment to introducing group spiritual direction to a wider public. Their collaboration began in 2002 at the College of Saint Benedict through their work with Companions on a Journey, a spiritual formation initiative funded by the Lilly Endowment, Inc.

Since then, through the Journey Conversations Project, Diane has worked with leaders in education, ministry, health care, and other settings to bring group spiritual companionship to their communities. Diane currently teaches at United Theological Seminary of the Twin Cities.

Christine Luna Munger teaches at Saint Catherine University where she serves as coordinator of the spiritual direction certificate program. She offers courses in Group Spiritual Direction and has presented on GSD for Spiritual Directors International.

Place: Carondelet Center, 1890 Randolph Ave, St Paul
Fee: $15 Sacred Ground Students
$25 Sacred Ground Members & Students from Other Institutions
$35 Non-Members

Contact: Sacred Ground 651-696-2798 or sacredgroundspirit.org

*Creating Genuine Connections through
Group Spiritual Direction*

*Diane Millis &
Christina Luna Munger*

Tuesday, February 20th
9:30—11:30 a.m.

People are more connected than ever before. In an age of likes and tweets, how might we as spiritual directors reimagine group spiritual direction? This professional development day will examine the key movements that distinguish group spiritual direction from other small group formats, explore approaches to GSD that can be used in a wide array of settings, and engage participants in conversation about elements of inclusion and contemplation that are conducive to creating safe, sacred spaces.

Diane Millis and Christine Luna Munger share an enduring commitment to introducing group spiritual direction to a wider public. Their collaboration began in 2002 at the College of Saint Benedict through their work with Companions on a Journey, a spiritual formation initiative funded by the Lilly Endowment, Inc.

Since then, through the Journey Conversations Project, Diane has worked with leaders in education, ministry, health care, and other settings to bring group spiritual companionship to their communities. Diane currently teaches at United Theological Seminary of the Twin Cities.

Christine Luna Munger teaches at Saint Catherine University where she serves as coordinator of the spiritual direction certificate program. She offers courses in Group Spiritual Direction and has presented on GSD for Spiritual Directors International.

Place: Carondelet Center, 1890 Randolph Ave, St Paul
Fee: $15 Sacred Ground Students
$25 Sacred Ground Members & Students from Other Institutions
$35 Non-Members

Contact: Sacred Ground 651-696-2798 or sacredgroundspirit.org